HOME BUILDERS IN GRASS
VALLEY TO IMPROVE HOUSING

GRASS VALLEY, Sept. 7.—Because of the pronounced shortage of housing facilities for the coming winter in Grass Valley, local citizens here have taken steps for the organization of the Grass Valley Community Building Association.

The purpose of the new organization is to compile statistics of local conditions which may be submitted to the Emergency Housing Fund officials of the federal government.

PORTOLA LIONS TO FIGHT SALES TAX

PORTOLA, Cal., Sept. 7.—A fight against asserted injustices in the state sales tax was started by the Portola Lions Club last night.

A committee was appointed to draft a resolution, charging that the sales tax is driving business out of California and into neighboring states.

Taxes on foodstuffs also were opposed.

PEDDLERS FINED

Nevada City, Cal., Sept. 7.—Violation of Nevada County's new peddlers ordinance requiring a license to operate in the county, resulted in W. C. Wood and his son, Walter, being found guilty by a jury and fined $250 by Judge C. A. Ocker of Truckee, sitting in place of Judge W. L. Mobley of the Nevada City justice court.

The court agreed to remit the fine if a peddler's license is secured.

WORK ADVANCES ON TWO PLACERVILLE ROAD PROJECTS

Work is advancing on the two projects on the Placerville-Tahoe Highway between Kyburz and Strawberry to a point where travel is but slightly inconvenienced.

Auto traffic is now using a good portion of the completed highway. There are but a few detours, all of them short and over the old oiled highway, thus providing no trouble. In only a couple of stretches is traffic routed over or through new construction that hasn't been smoothed up, and these are extremely short.

PAID FINE FOR SMOKING

W. A. McKinley, sheepherder who was careless about smoking in the Tahoe National Forest, paid a fine of $40 in the Tahoe City justice court recently. McKinley's carelessness started a fire northeast of Truckee.

DONNER LAKE GATES TO TRUCKEE RIVER CLOSED ON WEEK END

Donner Lake gates were closed last week end at the completion of the purchase of 4000 acre feet from that lake by the Truckee-Carson Irrigation District. The amount was literally a drop in the bucket for the great need of the Truckee meadows country.

The Tahoe gates are still open, supplying water for domestic use in Reno and Sparks. Through the efforts of Mrs. Anita Baldwin and other owners, the water stored in Fallen Leaf Lake was donated to the users of western Nevada. This water was turned into Lake Tahoe and an equivalent amount drawn into the Truckee River.

NEVADA CITY MAN ON SALES TAX JOB

Robert E. Carr of Nevada City has received notice from the state board of equalization that he has been selected sales tax examiner for Nevada and Sierra counties.

SIX YOUTHS DEVISE OWN MARRIAGE PLAN

LOGAN, Utah, Sept. 7.—(UP)—Six young men in Utah have discovered the newest way of selecting a wife, and it almost worked.

A petite girl and six young men, whose names were withheld, appeared at the county clerk's office and applied for a marriage license. The six youths had drawn straws, and the one with the short piece was to have been the lucky man.

The marriage plans were upset when it was discovered the girl was under age and failed to have her parents' consent.

HARRY ENGLEBRIGHT WILL SPEAK AT FAIR CONFERENCE

Winner of Gold Export Fight
To Be Speaker At Mining
Day Luncheon

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 7.—Congressman Harry L. Englebright, who has just won his campaign to have President Franklin D. Roosevelt modify restrictions upon newly mined gold exportation to foreign markets, will be the honored speaker at the first annual luncheon-conference to be held in the convention tent at the 1933 California State Fair at noon on Friday, September 8th, designated as Mining Day. The Mining Department of the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the meeting and Mining Day

Governor To Be Present

Hundreds of California mining men are expected to take advantage of this opportunity of hearing their Washington representative discuss the new gold export regulations, which Congressman Englebright claims will revive gold mining on a gigantic scale and will give employment to 50,000 more men in the State's mines. Reservations for the luncheon may be made with the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce.

Governor James Rolph Jr will be the special guest of honor at the luncheon, which will be presided over by State Treasurer Charles Gus Johnson, who is operating two gold mines at present.

Mining Day Program

Following the luncheon, school children of the Charleston School district in Amador County will stage a pioneer mining drama in front of the grandstand, while old-fashioned quadrilles will be danced by sixteen couples in costume from the Progressive 49ers of this city. Everybody is expected to wear pioneer garb on Mining Day and gold nuggets will be awarded for the best sustained costumes in front of the grandstand during the afternoon.

Commencing at 8 P. M. in the polo field of the grandstand, the city recreation department in cooperation with the mining department, will stage the spectacular pageant, "Early days in California," in which 575 men, women and children participate. Dances, in one of which 175 girls take part, will feature the pageant.

Sheriff George R. Carter, who served in the Ninety-first Division in France during the World War has received from the war department at Washington, D. C., the Silver Star medal awarded for "gallantry in action."

Carter was awarded the medal for an act of bravery performed while under fire in the Miesse-Argonne Forest in France on September 26, 1918. He and Herman Beal succeeded in taking a wire over twenty-five trenches in No Man's Land under fire.

Gold Holdings

The President's Executive Order of August 28, 1933, requires that all persons, partnerships, associations and corporations who have gold coin gold bullion or gold certificates in their possession must report their holdings to the Collector of Internal Revenue at San Francisco or one of his deputy collectors on or before September 18, 1933.

In every case where such holdings are owned by one person and in the possession of another, two returns must be filed relative thereto—one by the owner and one by the person in possession of the holdings.

Penalties for failure to make and file a return as required by the Executive Order are, upon conviction, a fine of not more than $10,000 or imprisonment for not more than ten years, or both.

TWO WOMEN LURN TO DEATH WHEN CAR HITS BOULDER

Car Bursts Into Flames
When Gasoline Tank Is Punctured By Impact

Mrs. Lillian Aldrich, 1020 West Elm St., Stockton, and Mrs. Grace Garrett, also of Stockton, were burned to death in their automobile on the Reno-Truckee highway near Boca at 8:30 P. M. last Thursday evening.

The automobile, a Ford coupe was proceeding toward Reno when it struck a large boulder. The hood support pierced the gasoline tank causing the gasoline to flow over the hot engine, and the car became a mass of flames.

"Frenchy" Gilbert, who was camping in the government camp ground nearby, heard the crash and rushed to the scene to render assistance. The impact had caused the doors to jam and he was unable to release the women and was forced to stand by while the women frantically fought for their release until overcome by the fire.

Officers from the Truckee checking station investigated the accident.

W. R. Aldrich, husband of the dead woman, arrived in Truckee on Friday morning to make arrangements for the removal of the bodies of the two women to Stockton for burial.

FOREST FIRE IN LEMON CANYON

A forest fire which started Monday afternoon in Lemon Canyon, two miles east of Sierraville, burned fiercely all night but was under control on Tuesday afternoon.

Rangers and CCC recruits from the Truckee Station assisted in subduing the flames, which had burned over fifty acres of young timber and cut over ground. Two pressure pumps were used to throw water from Lemon Creek upon the flames and flame throwing apparatus was used to back fire.

The high wind made it very difficult to check the flames.

One hundred and thirty CCC and twenty five loggers battled the conflagration which started from logging operations.

STATE PATROLMEN TO CHECK UP ON LICENSE DODGERS

Tax Emblems Issued To Operators Who Have Paid
$25 License

By THOMAS B. MALARKEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 7.—(UP)—Natty state highway patrolmen, supplemented by state inspectors, will "take the road" September 10 in every county in California in search of tax dodgers and lagards who have failed to pay their motor vehicle transportation license.

On that day, and thereafter, these minions of the law will stop all trucks and trailers—for these types of motor vehicles are the objective of the tax passed at the last legislative session—and demand a showing of tax emblems.

These emblems will be issued to all truck operators who have paid the new act.

Thousands of truck operators face the threat of seizure of equipment unless they apply for licenses immediately, the state board of equalization announced.

There are 337 trucks and trailers in Nevada county but not all come under the provisions of the legislation.

Those that must pay the tax are persons or firms who operate motor vehicles for hire or compensation. Excluded would be all such vehicles which operate exclusively inside the corporate limits of a city and those who now pay a gross receipts tax to the state, such as common carriers.

Richard Collins, chairman of the board of equalization, said that despite the fact that the act became effective June 1, well under 5,000 had paid the tax to date.

"The board," Collins said, "does not propose to temporize with tax dodgers and 'wild-cat' operators who attempt to evade their tax responsibility. If they are found operating without a license, their motor vehicle will be confiscated and their equipment tied up immediately."

In addition to the license fee, these contract haulers must pay three per cent on their gross receipts. Failure of any operator to make a report on his gross receipts for any one month, empowers the board to levy an arbitrary assessment against him in any amount it sees fit, together with a 25 per cent penalty for failure to make his report.

COUNTY TAX RATE SET AT $2.10 PER $100

The board of supervisors met in a special session on Thursday at the court house to fix the tax rate for the year 1933-34. The basic rate was fixed at $2.10 per hundred and is the same inside and outside of municipalities.

This is a reduction over the 1932-33 tax rate of $1.50 for outside of municipalities and $1.30 inside.

The reduction has been brought about through additional state gasoline tax, which has eliminated the county road taxes and through the payment of public school expenditures by the state.

Special taxes, which are the same as last year, and of interest to this end of the county, were levied as follows:

ROSEVILLE CONSIDERS MUNICIPALLY OWNED WATER SYSTEM

The Roseville city council has taken its initial step toward purchasing a municipally owned water system. A motion was passed accepting a resolution to the effect that a bond election be called for the purpose of raising $250,000 for the project.

According to a report made by the Baar and Cuningham Company of Portland, which has made a survey of the water system there, the plant now being used in Roseville is worth about $140,000. The book value of the system is about $160,000, the report disclosed. The report was officially filed yesterday with the city council.

The present plan under consideration calls for extensive improvements on the system now being used. Considerable new pipe will be installed to improve service to consumers.

EMIGRANT GAP BUILDINGS BURNED

A fire of undetermined origin Saturday destroyed the two story building known as the Pioneer Block and which was occupied by Hyatt's General Store and the Emigrant Post office, a barn, several outbuildings and three automobiles. The telephone and power systems were put temporarily out of commission.

The fire, which apparently started in the barn at the rear of the store building, quickly spread to the business block.

Thru the efforts of the Southern Pacific fire train which is stationed at this point, the fire was checked from destroying the Emigrant Gap Hotel nearby.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Englehart were in Roseville on Tuesday taking Mr. Englehart's mother, Mrs. Laura Mazza to the home of her daughter where she will spend the winter.

LARGEST

CALIFORNIA

By THOMAS B. MALARKEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 7.—(UP)—If President Roosevelt's New Deal is successful enough to put his party into power in California, one of those who hopes to ride the democratic tidal wave into office is F. C. "Tod" Cloudsley, Stockton.

Cloudsley hasn't announced his candidacy yet, but it is known he aspires to be lieutenant governor.

The Stockton lawyer was assembly speaker, pro tempore, last session—one of the first democrats to hold that post for many years—and a leader of the progressive and liberal block.

He was author of the public utility equalization bill (defeated) and the income tax measure (passed but vetoed). Also he was co-author of the Great Central Valley Water project legislation (passed) and the anti-capital punishment bill (defeated).

During most of the legislative session, Cloudsley was one of the most popular men in the legislature. Towards the close, however, he became involved in several bitter fights over bills, and on several occasions was severely criticized by a number of his colleagues.

Cloudsley is modest and unassuming but is very effective in a catch-as-catch-can debate. He succeeded in getting through the assembly every major bill in which he was interested.

The candidacy of the Stockton assemblyman received its first real impetus during the closing days of the legislature when democratic members of the lower house met in secret caucus and unanimously agreed to support him. In return, northern California assemblymen promised to support any democratic southern California man for governor.

It is understood Cloudsley feels if a democrat can ever be elected to high office, 1934 will be the year. Consequently he is planning to launch an aggressive campaign along liberal and progressive lines.

HARRY L. ENGLEBRIGHT TO BE TENDERED RE- CEPTION UPON RETURN

The citizens of Nevada City are making plans for a reception for Congressman Harry L. Englebright on his return from Washington, D. C. this week.

Englebright virtually led a single-handed campaign for the modification of restrictions upon the gold exportations, and was successful in his fight to give the gold mining industry the right to export newly mined gold and obtain the world price.

The new ruling means that a gold can be sold in the world market at prevailing prices of $30 ounce, as contrasted with the price of $20.67 paid by the mint.

Results of the NRA campaign thus far are gratifying, in the opinion of California editors.

Acceptance of the regulatory program by the larger industries, it is pointed out, is proving a valuable leadership in the drive to restore buying power through increased employment and higher wages.

"Much will be gained if business men generally clarify in their own minds the obligation which they have assumed, measuring it always by the fundamental principle of MORE work for MORE people to create MORE buying power," said the Santa Barbara Morning Press. "The future of the nation, the fate of the entire system by which business and manufacture are now conducted, may rest upon the honest, earnest effort of us all to put over NRA."

Board principles of the recovery program is understandable by every man, states the Bakersfield Californian, adding:

"He knows that its object is to give employment to millions of unemployed men. He has been shown that this can only be accomplished if employers and employees cooperate in reducing hours of labor and engaging more help at a living wage, and so through the wages earned, increase purchasing power. It is a program that gains by sacrifice of immediate profits. And, according to the experts, it is the only way to take the country out of its present economic plight."

Importance of the consumer's part in the program is depicted by the Beverly Hills Citizen thus:

"The employer in most cases is willing to absorb added costs of production because he can 'pass along' his added charges for production to the ultimate consumer. In fact the consumer is told by Washington that he is expected to make this absorption in price, the theory being that with more people at work under shorter hours for those who work there will be more money circulating."

"If goods are not bought," comments the Santa Rosa Republican, "it is only a matter of how long manufacturers can continue to make them under the new deal. If goods stay on shelves, it will be impossible for retailers to carry on under the blue eagle indefinitely. Unless everybody buys, the NRA program cannot succeed, and it MUST succeed."

"We are passing through serious difficulties," said the Santa Ana Register. "The whole program of the national government will fail if a great number of present unemployed people are not set to work. Any movement in any direction that tends to reduce and not to increase the number employed, militates against this law, and really for any of us to join in any movement which tends to do this hurts ourselves, as well as everybody else, in the end."

"It is one of the most important and far-reaching programs ever instituted in all the history of the republic," concludes the Vallejo Times-Herald. "It means that the American democracy must be so implemented that it can make its will effective in an age of mass production, high finance and intricate commercial dealings. The fight won't be an easy one or a short one; but it is one of the most worth-while that the nation has ever gotten into."

NO MILLIONAIRES

Says one of the leading industrialists in Cleveland, industrial center and wealthiest city in Ohio: "I don't believe there is one millionaire left in this town." Four years ago there were scores of them, some with many millions. The richest citizens of the pre-depression period are now insolvent.

This is probably typical. So great a toll has been taken among the shining marks by the common enemy. The rich have suffered proportionately as much as the poor, possibly more.

Wealth will return, though probably not again in such vast accumulations. If the new social philosophy wins, it will be more widely distributed. The fellows at the top will have somewhat less, the fellows at the bottom somewhat more.

An interesting phase of this wealth mortality is the effect it will have on income taxes. If the riddled millionaires can still follow the example of Morgan and his partners, and pass along their excessive losses to cancel income for the next two or three years, the little fellows will have to pay pretty high rates to keep the government going.

HONG KONG: ITS LIGHTS AND ITS FLOWERS

Arriving at Hong Kong at night is one of the world's loveliest experiences. The enormous harbor is dotted with steamers, warships, and junks, and, overshadowing everything, the great Peak Hill rises against the sky. It is a mass of twinkling lights, for houses are built on its slopes to the very summit.

I never really grasped until I went there that Hong Kong is on an island of roughly thirty square miles, circumscribed by a very fine millitary road, along which we motored to Repulse Bay, to lunch at a delightful hotel overlooking this peaceful cove.

It is built facing the bay which is some two miles across and almost surrounded by rugged brown mountains. From the long cool veranda of the hotel, white marble terraces decorated by blue hydrangeas in tubs, flanked by clumps of flame trees, lead down to the seashore.

Driving back along the broad road just as the sun was setting, we glimpsed attractive views of little rocky inlets filled with brown-sailed junks and sampans.

In Hong Kong they have a Flower Street that runs up the side of the hill at the base of which the whole city is built. It was really exquisite to look up this narrow street—just one blaze of brilliant tropical flowers on the different stalls, the smell of which seems to permeate the whole of the neighborhood. In the main wide busy streets there are some fine shops showing lovely rolls of silk in every color of the rainbow, old Ming porcelain, carved ivories, old mandarin robes, shawls and strings of jade, but it lacked the romance of the old pokey shops up at Canton.

Up to the very top of the Peak, perched on the side of the steep mountain, residences have been built so that in the summer months people can escape the steamy heat of the city.—V. C. Buckley, in "With a Passport and Two Eyes." (London: Hutchinson.)

YOUR GOOD HEALTH

How to Treat Victims Suffering from Attack of Sun Stroke

By CLAUD NORTH CHRISMAN, M.D.

SUN STROKE, heat exhaustion, thermic fever, are some of the various names that have been given to conditions caused by exposure to excessive heat or to the direct rays of the summer sun. We have two distinct conditions that occur following heat exposure. Heat exhaustion usually results from prolonged exposure to high temperatures with physical exertion. In this type of heat-stroke the patient has been feeling fairly well and perspiring freely. Suddenly the sweating stops and he gets dizzy and faint. There is severe pain in the head, and likely a sick stomach with abdominal cramps. His face and body are cool and clammy, his pulse is faint and rapid. The lips turn blue. There is great restlessness and may scream out with pain in head and back of neck followed by extreme prostration and sometimes wild delirium. The temperature is below normal and he soon passes into a state of collapse and dies or gradually becomes quiet and recovery takes place.

THIS condition of heat exhaustion should be treated by giving stimulants such as aromatic spirits of ammonia. A hot bath and warm blankets with vigorous massaging will restore circulation and replace his body heat.

THE temperature will run very high, often reaching 107-110, or even higher. The breathing is labored and deep and very noisy. There may be relaxation of the muscles of the whole body, but occasionally the muscles twitch and jerk and severe convulsions may be present. The unconsciousness may go on to coma and death in 24 hours or they may gradually become more quiet, the temperature falls and they slowly recover.

IT IS related of "Christian," in "The Pilgrim's Progress," that he began his journey to the Celestial City bearing on his back a great burden, but that it rolled away from him when he had gone far enough to behold the saving love of Christ. As we journey through this earthly experience, it seems sometimes as if we, too, were weighted with a heavy burden which we feel it is our duty to carry, although it greatly impedes our progress. What a relief it would be to get rid of this incubus, to learn that we may pursue our way unencumbered, and find all our needs abundantly supplied so long as we do not wander from the right path!

"Cast thy burden upon the Lord, and he shall sustain thee," said the Psalmist. Many instances of this sustaining love, experienced in ancient times, are recorded in the Bible, and many more might be recorded in our own day; for those who obey the Scriptural command, "Humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God," casting all your care upon him; for he careth for you," are learning that God does care for His creation.

Christian Science is teaching many a one to undo the heavy burdens of care and anxiety by gaining a clear understanding of what God really is. On page 465 of "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" Mary Baker Eddy writes, "God is incorporeal, divine, supreme, infinite Mind, Spirit, Soul, Principle, Life, Truth, Love." As we become conscious of the all-embracing, all-sustaining divine Mind, which is always present everywhere, the nature of which is wholly loving, just, and true, we lose the fear of being crushed by oncoming evils. So we become braver, for on every side we see evidences of the presence of good. Perhaps we had long ago been taught that God is Love, and now we can prove it. Even human parents would not willingly burden their children. Can the human be more loving than the divine? Is not God the source of all real love? Man cannot be more just, more loving, than his Maker. Cast your burden, all your care, upon Him, divine Love, "for he careth for you."

What is our special burden? Is it one of anxiety for our business, fear for its future and for that of our staff, our employees? Let us cast all our care upon divine Mind, for divine intelligence supplies us from day to day with the justice, honesty, resourcefulness, wisdom, courage, and opportunity which we need. Truth

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 7.—(UP)—California's state government "shot the works" as far as applications for federal aid are concerned.

Public building projects totaling more than $31,000,000 were submitted to federal officials for possible inclusion in the public works building program under the National Recovery Act.

The entire program includes public works in 32 counties, particularly at state institutions where capital outlay was curtailed by budget reductions.

While the state committee handling federal aid applications expressed the belief that many of the projects would not qualify, it was thought best to submit all departmental applications.

While on the matter of federal aid, Rolland A. Vandegrift, state director of finance, said he would not be in favor of a special session of the legislature unless it appeared certain that California's financial condition would jeopardize aid from the federal government.

The most recent check of state finances revealed that the state government's deficit this biennium would amount to almost $45,000,000 instead of the $40,000,000 that was forwarded as the maximum a few months ago. State revenues still are on the down grade.

Governor Rolph ended the period allotted him for consideration of bills passed during the first part of the legislature session by permitting the income sales tax bill and the ad valorem tax repeal to die by means of the "pocket veto."

The governor previously had said he would not sign the bill calling for an income tax bill ranging from 1 to 5 per cent. His action in killing the bill which would have prevented the assessment of an arbitrary ad valorem tax on all property was taken on the recommendation of Rolland A. Vandegrift, state director of finance, who said the measure would threaten the state's credit structure by removing the opportunity to raise revenue in case of emergency.

"He careth for you" corrects our mistakes, encourages our efforts for reform, and supports us, for He ever sustains all His children.

Are we carrying a load of loneliness? Even if we are in a solitary place, divine Love is there to make the solitude glad with the revealing of that truth which the physical senses cannot perceive, to enrich our thought and lift it above self, so that we can emerge from our present condition with open arms and giving hands, happier and more useful than we have ever been.

Is poverty trying to crush out our freedom and our joy? Are we looking to material sources for supply? If so, we are finding but little. Let us look up; seek first the kingdom of heaven, and we shall find it, because it is just at hand. Then we shall find also enough of whatever is required to supply our daily need. But if both hands are holding on to burdens, how can blessings be grasped? We cannot grasp the blessing without dropping the burden. Which shall it be? Just for today let us reach out for the love, the joy, the peace which God is holding out to all, and our outstretched hands will let go their load. Let us keep reaching out for blessings, and we shall not be tempted to pick up again the burden we have dropped.

Are we weighted down by weariness, sickness, or pain? "Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden," says the healing Christ, "and I will give you rest. . . . For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light." Nor time, nor place, nor creed, nor race, is any barrier to the ever-present Christ. Let us accept the health and strength which we inherit as children of God, and face each day with confidence, "for he careth for you."

We need not let grief rob us of the smiles which we owe to our fellow men. God gives joy instead of mourning. He teaches us that Love alone is life, the ever-present Life of all His vast creation. Rejoice always, because "he careth for you," and for them. In ancient times the Jews were allowed to carry no burden upon the Sabbath day. Let us resolve to keep every day holy, and to carry only what comes to us from the hand of divine Love. Then we shall be free and unburdened. We shall be free from the false sense of self, and so be better able to undo the heavy burdens of our neighbors, helping them to cast all their care on Love divine, gently reminding them that "he careth for you."—The Christian Science Monitor.

TAHOE REGION NEWS

By "SWANEE"

Autumn is in the air, which means that Old Man Winter with his ermine cloak and frosty breath is not far distant. Nights and mornings are becoming crisp already, with the first frost of the season visiting Tahoe on September 1st. Brisk winds whip the lake into a foaming mass of white caps, and occasionally stormy spells seem to appear as a spur to Summer, warning her to be taking her departure, and admonishing vacationists to wend their ways homeward, which is just what the majority of them have done or are about to do. The three day holiday saw a large crowd at Tahoe, with the Tavern golf course swarming with enthusiasts of the game, and many of the leading resorts and camp grounds filled to capacity. But on Tuesday, silence again prevails, traffic is negligible and the winds of Fall continue to blow spasmodically.

Yesterday a lone sail boat braved Tahoe's crystal depths, but rarely now is heard the hum of motor boats, which is another infallible indication of Summer's passing. "Natives" are busy laying in the wood supply for the winter, repairs are being made, and an inventory of the family larder being taken, with a view of replenishing it before roads become impassable.

The county has finished oiling the many by-ways and portions of unpaved public roads in and around Tahoe, with the result that all are now in excellent condition. Many are optimistic in believing that the main highways around Tahoe will be kept open all winter, altho no definite word has been received from the State Highway Department as yet.

A beautiful new home is being erected in Timberland Tract at Sunnyside by F. A. Kilner and Co. for J. C. Harris of San Francisco. The six-room house, being constructed of stone and logs with hand split sugar pine shakes, will be completed this fall. It was designed by George J. Rossi of San Mateo, whose artistic genius is fast gaining for him an enviable reputation.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Oliver and family, who have occupied the W. W. Mein place for the best part of the summer, left on Wednesday for their home in Piedmont.

Mr. and Mrs. William Wallace Mein and their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fay of San Francisco, will arrive the end of the week to spend several weeks at their Tahoe home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Smith of Ithaca, New York, are spending some time at Tahoe. Mrs. Smith is the former Florence Hunkins, daughter of Mrs. Susan Hunkins, and is enjoying the visit with relatives and old friends. NORDEN NEWS

By C. W. KRAMER

It's a dreary old world when a small amount of amusement is not allowed to be added to the general routine of one's every day life. The proprietor of Norden's efficient Service Station, Mr. J. C. Lyon, was confronted by a customer the other day and while serving him with gas and oil another supposedly would-be customer drew alongside his car and asked a few questions that were freely answered in a pleasant manner and then pulled out with a kind "Thank You." The customer remarked "that reminds me of what a proprietor told me the other day that those tourists that seek information and drive on are called I. W. W. customers," and being anxious to learn Mr. Lyon was informed that it stood for "Information, Wind and Water," which might apply to many motorists with little regard for the service station attendants through out the land.

The Wortell residence on Railroad avenue was pleasantly surprised with the arrival of the F. D. Gregory family of Roseville this week. Mrs. Wortell and Mrs. Gregory are sisters. During their stay Gregory plans to entice the trout from their customary hiding places of the several lakes in this vicinity. On their return home they plan to have Mrs. Gregory's father Mr. S. M. Hunter who has been visiting his daughter for some time to accompany them to their home at Roseville, where he will visit indefinitely.

MANY AUTO ACCIDENTS FORD DEALERS IN WEST DUE TO CHEAPLY BUILT TO BEGIN ADVERTISING TIRES, SURVEY SHOWS AND RADIO CAMPAIGN

The increasingly large proportion of the nation's motor accidents are due to defective tires, it has just been shown in a country-wide survey made by a leading insurance company.

During the first four months of this year, one-third more of the accidents which occurred to motorists were traced to worn out or cheaply-built tires, in comparison with those, during the same period a year previous.

"These statistics announced by an insurance organization are simply further proof that at today's high speeds motorists are having more blow-outs due to excessive heat generated within the casings than ever before in history," declared Thornton Bros., local Goodrich tire dealers.

Months before the new Goodrich Silvertown with life-saver Golden Ply was introduced by our factory, ing would cause this condition so the engineers knew that fast driving set about to create a tire that would withstand this heat and so make driving safer for automobilists. Exhaustive investigations and countless miles of testing under every road condition cost the B. F. Goodrich Rubber Company thousands of dollars before the new Silvertown with Golden Ply was offered to the public.

Politically Speaking

By THOMAS B. MALARKEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 7—(UP)—Visualize a small army of state officials and subordinates trying to walk on eggs without breaking them.

That gives you an insight into the attitude of state officialdom. Reason is the 1934 campaign is approaching. Word has gone out the less said on controversial matters the better.

Since his torrid outburst on the Jack D. Green case, the governor has been the soul of discretion. Apprehensive secretaries hover nearby at press conferences to guide the governor away from "thin ice." Once a secretary interrupted a conversation with the press to whisper in Rolph's ear. Immediately the governor relapsed into silence.

Other administration officials are the same. Ask them any question on a touchy subject, and they'll answer: "Well, it's getting pretty close to election time; perhaps I shouldn't say anything at this time."

Rolph "reelectioneers" devoutly hope the primary field will be cluttered with republican candidates. They know the more candidates, the greater the governor's chances. They wouldn't even be distressed if Boi Shuler got into the race.

Fully aware of the democratic threat next year, republican leaders are counting on their opponents killing themselves off by intra-party strife. Rumors of Bourbon discontent over McAdoo leadership are pleasing the G. O. P.

If the 18th amendment is repealed before Christmas—as appears reasonably probable—California's present beer tax will be virtually nullified. The levy is on "non-intoxicating" beverages of 3.2 per cent and under. All a brewer need do would be to increase the alcoholic content over 3.2. And, rest assured, he'll do just that.

In other words, repeal will cost the state $750,000 annually until new beer taxes are passed. Incidentally, wines and liquors would go completely tax-free in California until the 1935 legislative session unless the governor convokes a special session. And the governor is against the general idea of special sessions.

California State Fair Is Termed 'World's Fair'

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 7—(UP)—California's State Fair which opened September 2 is also a "world's fair."

So that Chicago won't get worried it may be said that only the countries of Canada, Switzerland, Holland and Mexico are represented this year.

The exhibits are presented by school districts to show the home life, history, arts and native dress of these countries. The exhibit is to be expanded each year.

SNAKE, CAT KILLED WITH SINGLE SHOT

PLACERVILLE, Cal., Sept. 7—(UP)—Maybe "killing two birds with one stone" isn't such a feat after all.

Jack Duffy, sitting in front of his cabin at Lotus, saw a rattlesnake approaching. Seizing his rifle he took careful aim and fired. Not only did the snake shudder a few times and lay still with its head shot off, but Duffy's pet cat standing several feet distant also turned a couple of somersaults and dropped dead. The bullet, investigation revealed, had struck a rock under the snake, ricocheted and hit the feline.

California Veterans Score Two Victories At Legislative Session

By THOMAS B. MALARKEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 7—(UP)—The legislative tide turned against the world war veteran in congress and in some other states, but insofar as California is concerned the vets came out better than ever during the prolonged 50th session of the legislature.

The vets scored two major victories. First, a bill repealing the act providing veterans be given a $1000 property tax exemption in California, was killed in committee.

Extent of this victory is self-evident in view of the fact that 192 161 ex-soldiers were given property tax exemptions last year to totaling $107,985,031.

In Nevada county last year, 397 veterans' property valued at $182,560 was exempt.

Even more important, was passage of a measure submitting to the people in 1934 a proposal for a $30,000,000 bond issue to finance veterans farm and home loans.

This act ran into opposition at the outset but was eventually passed when veteran leaders promised they themselves would oppose its approval at the polls if the state's financial condition was such in 1934 it should not undertake an additional bond issue.

With comparative ease, a measure appropriating $25,000 to help children of ex-soldiers injured in the war through school, was approved and signed by the governor. This work had been under way for some time past and the money to carry it on had been used up.

A special concession bill for veterans was, however, killed. It provided they should not be compelled to pay for fishing and hunting licenses.

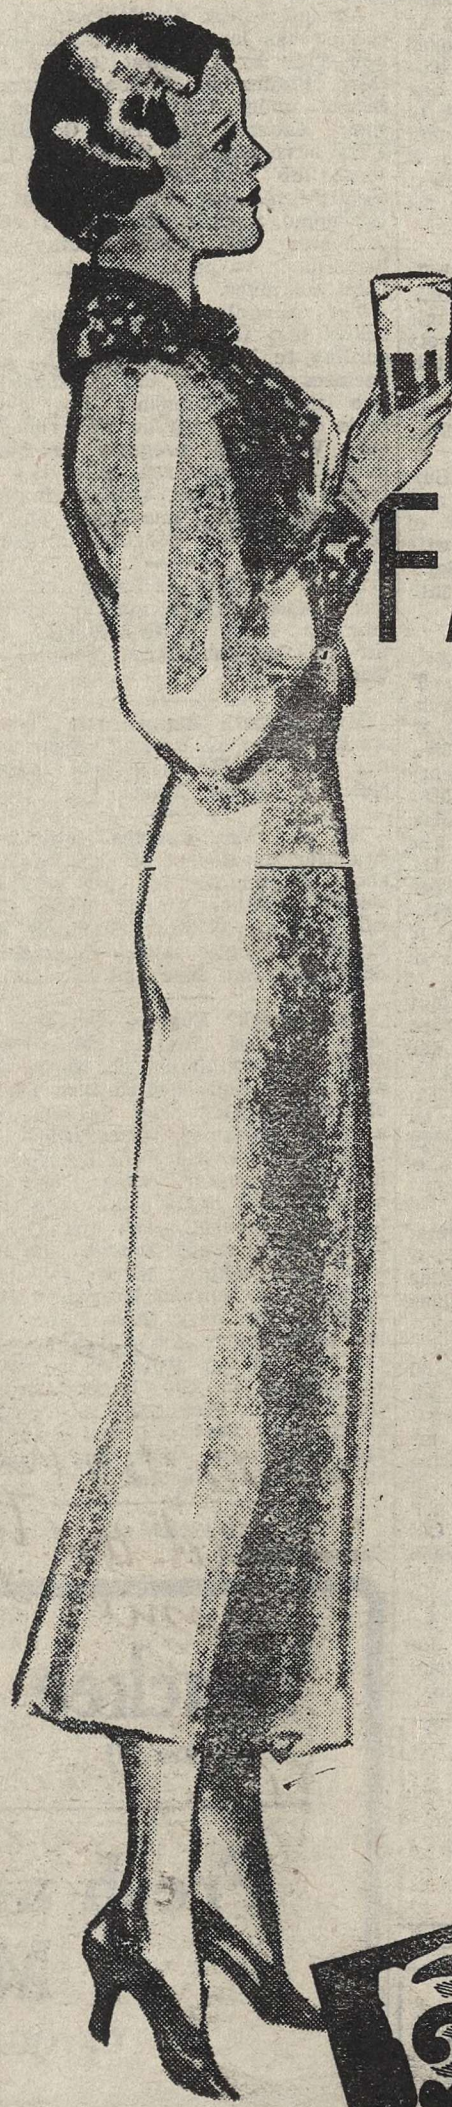

Possibly sensing this session was not the time to launch much of a legislative campaign, veterans were merely content to get their bond issue through and resist attempts of various legislators to upset and have won concessions they had secured in previous years.

No Need To Fear Sleeping Sickness Says Dr. Porter

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 7.—(UP)—California need feel no alarm over an epidemic of sleeping sickness at the present time, Dr. Giles S. Porter, director of the state department of public health said today.

"The appearance of an outbreak of epidemic encephalitis—popularly known as sleeping sickness—in an eastern city has caused considerable apprehension in other parts of the country. It may be said that this disease is not unusually prevalent in California and that at the present time no alarm need be felt lest the disease become epidemic in this state," Dr. Porter said.

Dr. Porter pointed out that sleeping sickness has occurred in almost every month of every year in California since 1919 when it made its first appearance. All cases that have been reported during recent years are isolated, sporadic cases.

"Since this disease is present at all times, each individual case must be placed under careful supervision," the director warned. "It is probable that carriers play important roles in the spread of the disease, but the phenomenon by which epidemics of sleeping sickness occur is unknown."

"At all events, there is no occasion for alarm over this disease in California at the present time. As long as individual sporadic cases that occur are placed under strict supervision, it is believed that adequate control measures will keep the disease in check."

A survey of department of health records shows that since 1919 there have been 1,418 cases of sleeping sickness in the state, of which 851 proved fatal. There have been 16 fatal cases so far this year.

STRICT ECONOMY GOVERNS BOARD OF EQUALIZATION

By MELVIN LORD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, Cal., September 7.—(UP)—Strict interpretation of the economy provisions of the Riley-Stewart tax plan today led the state board of equalization to deny all but 17 of 800 requests of school districts to exceed the 5 per cent per year budget increase limitation.

Requests for expenditures over the 5 per cent limitation totaled almost $4,000,000, according to Fred E. Stewart, board member. Of this amount only $1,588,886 was allowed the board, including $1,352,481.43 for Los Angeles county for reconstruction and repair of schools damaged by earthquake.

Aside from the earthquake reconstruction funds, virtually the only emergency claims validated were to replace schools destroyed by fire, carry through building contracts entered into before the Riley-Stewart plan was adopted last June.

The board has adhered to the most rigid interpretation of 'emergencies' in acting upon requests for authority to exceed the 5 per cent budget limitation, believing that every tax-paying body owes it to the people at this period to practice the strictest economy in govern-

KIDS HAIL NRA FOR CHANGE IN CURFEW

TOPPENISH, Wash., Sept. 7.—(UP)—For the first time in 23 years the curfew failed to toll out here at 9 o'clock in the evening.

The reason is the NRA code, and Democrats were wondering if the move is going to lose votes for their party from mothers who formerly depended on the 9 o'clock curfew to call their children home.

Because of the NRA the curfew has been moved up to 6 in the evening. When it sounds, merchants of the town know it's time to close shop, under stipulations of their code.

But the children don't have to go home at 6.

mental affairs," State Controller R. L. Riley said.

"We have sought to keep faith with the people of California, when they voted for the Riley-Stewart plan, were equally desirous of tax equalization and drastic retrenchment in both local and state expenditures. The board, on the other hand, has done its utmost to guard against crippling any school district."

GOLD SCALES USED SINCE 1864 STILL WEIGH ACCURATELY

QUINCY, Cal., Sept. 7.—(UP)—There's something to be said for those old-fashioned gold scales, at that.

According to a report of J. A. Johnson, an inspector for the state division of weights and measures, the ancient gold scales in use in Plumas county continue to tell the truth.

Johnson found some scales dating back to 1864 which still are in excellent condition and capable of giving exact weights, he reported.

PAUSE DIDN'T REFRESH

YAKIMA, Wash., Sept. 7.—(UP)—Though he claimed he stopped to lie on the lawn of the Adams school because he was tired, the pause that refreshes cost Cal Hill $25 in Police Court here the other day. Officers claimed that when Hill arose to go home, he was so drunk he couldn't navigate. So they gave him a steer—to jail.

public works, has issued orders that at least $20,000,000 worth of highway work be either under way or under contract by Christmas. Under terms of this program it is estimated that more than 16,000 men can be given employment. The new highway construction program for the biennium calls for the expenditure of $34,000,000 by the state.

Governor Rolph lost his usual calm when he was criticized by newspapers for refusing clemency to Jack D. Green, convicted with Francisco Joseph Regan of the slaying of a Los Angeles police officer.

Regan has been executed as the man who actually fired the fatal shots during a theatre holdup. Tremendous pressure has been brought to bear on the governor to save the life of Green. Rolph's only concession was to grant another hearing to Green's parents.

HIGHWAY PATROL FORCE SERVES AS CORONER'S JURY

YUBA CITY, Cal., Sept. 7.—(UP)—When it comes to meeting unusual situations, the California state highway patrol force can be depended upon to furnish the answer. Recently K. Takahashi, Japanese committed suicide in the Sutter county jail. Coroner P. W. Rowe wished to hold an immediate inquest.

Eight highway patrolmen, called to the sheriff's office for possible emergency action in connection with the peach strike, were impressed into service as a coroner's jury and returned a verdict.

BEAR WRECKS CABIN

TULARE, Cal., Sept. 7.—(UP)—A bear with an appetite for sweets almost ruined the summer for Mr. and Mrs. A. Barlow of Tulare. Their summer cabin at Redwood canyon was nearly wrecked by a bear who tore down a window to reach cans of preserves.

3 TIMES SAFER FROM BLOW-OUTS

TODAY nearly everyone likes to drive fast. But when your speedometer reads 40, 50, 60 and 70—mile after mile—the heat inside your tires becomes terrific. A blister starts . . . and grows. Like a tumor, it gets bigger and bigger . . . Until BANG! A blow-out! A terrible drag sets in . . . you can't steer. And then CRASH!

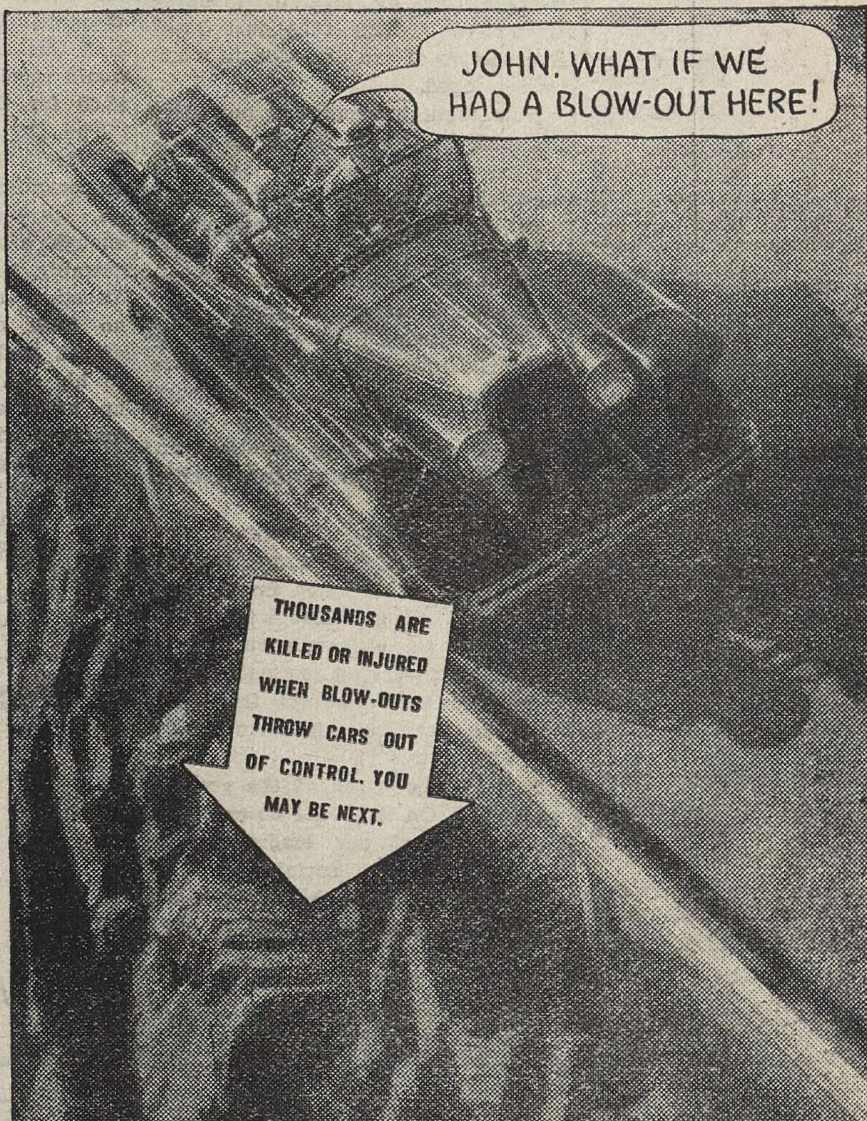

How Life-Saver Golden Ply Prevents Blow-Outs

So somebody simply had to build a safer tire—one that could stand the strains of modern high speeds. Now, to protect you from blow-outs, every Goodrich Safety Silvertown has the amazing new Life-Saver Golden Ply; an invention that resists terrific heat. Fabric and rubber don't separate . . . thus blisters don't form. Blow-outs are prevented by overcoming their very cause!

At gruelling speeds on the world's fastest track, the new Goodrich Safety Silvertown with the Life-Saver Golden Ply lasted three times as long as first quality tires that did not have this feature. These Silvertowns NEVER blew! They were run till the tread was gone . . . but the Life-Saver Golden Ply refused to give!

No Extra Cost to Public

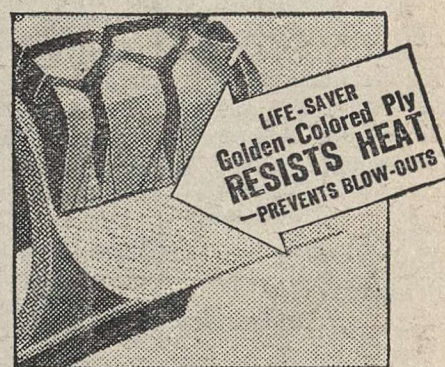

Don't think that slow driving will save you from blow-outs, either. Long trips at 35 or 40 miles an hour can generate terrific heat, too. The only way to play safe is to make sure you get this Life-Saver Golden Ply Tire, the Goodrich Safety SILVERTOWN! It costs not one penny more than other standard tires. So its blow-out protection is FREE!

The Silvertown tread, too, is safer from skidding. Tests made with leading makes of tires prove that the Goodrich Silvertown has the most skid-resisting tread on the road. Its squeegee drying action gives your car extra road-grip, even on wet, slippery pavements.

Let us put this Silvertown Tire on your car. Enjoy real protection for your children, your family and yourself!

GOBBLER TURNS NRA AND DOES HIS PART

GRIDLEY, Cal., Sept. 7—(UP)—Even the turkeys on the Wade ranch near here seem to have caught the spirit of the NRA slogan, "We do our part."

Disappearance of a prize gobbler had caused considerable concern to Mrs. J. G. Wade. After ten days the missing bird was located, perched upon a nest in the cornfield, hatching out three eggs.

To provide the necessary "setting," the gobbler had stolen three eggs from a turkey hen's nest nearby.

We now have old age pensions in 25 states.

LOOKING UP

By S. G. RUBINOW
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 7—(UP)—One thing, relating to the efforts of the administration to bring prosperity back to the United States, is being admitted by everyone.

And that is, that for the first time in the history of the United States, the general public is being given a liberal education in all the mysteries of what is known as "business."

Both under the Agricultural Adjustment Act and the National Recovery Act, innumerable hearings, open to the public, have been, are being held throughout the country and in Washington, D. C.

At these hearings, a tremendous amount of information on trade practices and methods of doing business, has been brought out. This information is now part of the permanent records of the United States government.

This information is being weighed, analyzed, checked and summarized. Out of this encyclopedia of facts will be evolved future policies of transacting business and conducting industry in the United States in a manner that will insure greatest amount of good for the greatest number of people.

For years and years, American industry, commerce, trade, agriculture, banking and all phases of economic life, have needed readjustment. Our economic system was characterized by lack of planning. It was a system that just grew irrespective of the direction in which it developed.

Now there has come a turn-about in conditions and things. Our old system of doing business has proven unsatisfactory. That system, more than anything else, was responsible for panics, depressions, unemployment, bank failures, bank holidays, and general economic chaos.

These hearings, conducted by the administrators of the Agricultural Adjustment and National Recovery Acts, will contribute much toward standardizing business practices and removing past faults and inefficiencies.

The finest piece of research work and of incalculable value to society, is ready for some one capable of doing the job. That work would consist of an economic analysis of the mass of information gathered at these hearings, and its translation into the practical affairs of every day life.

It would be a job of the greatest magnitude. On it should be combined the efforts of our leading economists, historians, social scientists, political scientists, philosophers, educators. It would be a job of codifying history in the making.

Sooner or later, that job has got to be done. Of course, day by day the conclusions arising out of these hearings are being put into practice. Step by step, codes are being adopted, practices are being changed, traditions are being thrown overboard, and a new economic structure is rising.

As that new economic structure is being built, its development should be painted on the canvas of interpretative research, so that the American public can understand what is taking place and become an important part of the new deal and the new day.

CADDIES' NIBBLICKS HALT ANGRY BRUINS

OGDEN, Utah, Sept. 7—(UP)—Armed with pitchforks, nibblicks and brooms, an army of caddies, commanded by Mark Parker, caretaker conducted the first bear hunt in many years at the municipal golf course and captured two large bears.

The animals were let from their cages in El Monte Park where they were being held pending shipment to a Salt Lake City zoo. Enraged the animals charged the small army of caddies and for a time it was uncertain as to which side would win.

Hereafter was the first wrestler to use the "airplane spin" although he didn't call it that.

Should Establish Camps For Unemployed Women Says Welfare Director

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 7—(UP)—Camps for unemployed women similar to the CCC camps for men should be established in California, according to Mrs. Rhea Crawford Splivalo, director of the state department of social welfare.

"In view of the apparent success of President Roosevelt's conservation camps, it would appear that consideration should be given for the establishment of camps for the unemployed women," said Mrs. Splivalo.

"It would seem that the establishment and operation of such camps would be feasible from both an economic and social standpoint. They would answer, partially at least, a very definite need."

The director declared her department was "keenly interested in the success of recovery legislation particularly insofar as it applies to the women."

"The problem of providing for approximately 200,000 unemployed and single women now in California is a serious one which merits the utmost consideration and attention of welfare and social agencies."

Despite the success of state and national recovery programs, the number of persons to obtain re-employment under this legislation has not as yet been reflected in the aid rolls.

"It is doubtful if any material change or a reversal of the now upward trend of aid cases may be expected for a year or more," Mrs. Splivalo said.

"The number of aged, blind and children seeking relief under the state's humanitarian and progressive relief laws showed a net increase of 491 persons during the past month, boosting the number of persons on the aid rolls to 31,938 as compared with 31,447 the previous month."

CCC BOYS BECOME EXPERT SNIPE HUNTERS

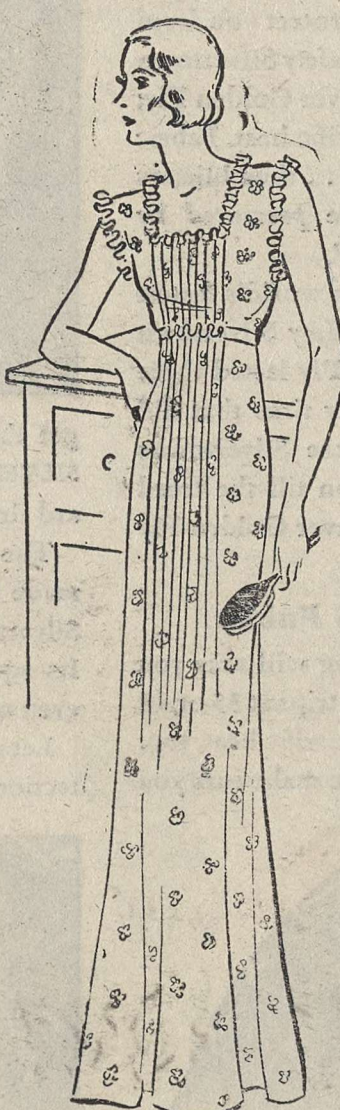

Some of the boys were the honored guests at a snipe hunt held at the Rock Creek Canyon Camp on the Inyo Forest at the full of the moon. According to the best accounts the bounty on snipe was high this season. It is reported they would receive $5.00 for creepers and $8.00 for flyers.

The boys planned to raise the National Depression and place the conservation work on a paying basis. At the least, there should be enough to finance a trip home. Regretably, the wind was in the wrong direction and the boys failed through no fault of their own. One lad's efforts took him into the creek up to his chin while another one gave up after striking a whole box of matches while hiding behind a granite boulder with sack in hand.

It is said that if they had not come from the urban vicinities of Ohio, success would have been greater.

238 Health Officers Employed to Improve Conditions in State

By MELVIN LORD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 7—
(UP)—Improvement of public health conditions is one of California's most important governmental problems, in the opinion of state officials.

This function, incidentally, will be of increasing importance in the next few years, it is believed.

Recognition of the policy, state records reveal, has led to the employment of a total of 238 city and county health officers in the state, of which three are located in Nevada County.

This total includes only the heads of public health departments, and does not take into consideration the hundreds of other doctors, nurses and other persons employed by county and municipal health agencies.

The steady increase in public health work in recent years is credited by officials with being largely responsible for better control of contagious diseases, more regular school attendance and a decreasing death rate.

"There are indications that public health problems will be more acute in the immediate future than they have been in the past," Dr. Giles S. Porter, director of the state department of public health said.

"It is conceded generally that the results of the economic depression have not, as yet, exerted a profound influence upon public health conditions.

"During the next few years health departments generally will undoubtedly be burdened with problems that will arise in the wake of the period of unemployment, under-nutrition, exposure and faulty housing conditions that have prevailed to a certain extent since 1929.

"Because of this the work of the public health officers will be of particular importance."

PARENTS INCLINED TO LET OTHERS REAR THEIR CHILDREN

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 7—
(UP)—There is a continually increasing tendency of parents to forfeit the privilege of rearing their own children and allowing others to assume the responsibility, a report of the state department of social welfare reveals. One of the most recent of such cases involved a young father who offered his child for adoption as a means of stretching his small income to finance his educational ambitions.

"The application, representing an unwarranted and disgraceful display of selfishness, was blocked," said Miss Rheba Crawford Spilva, department director.

Other Bible citations will include: "Doth not wisdom cry? and understanding put forth her voice? I lead in the way of righteousness, in the midst of the paths of judgment: That I may cause those that love me to inherit substance; and I will find their treasures" (Prov. 8: 1, 20, 21).

The Lesson-Sermon also will include the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Mind, God, sends forth the aroma of Spirit, the atmosphere of intelligence. Spirit diversifies, classifies, and individualizes all thoughts, which are as eternal as the Mind conceiving them; but the intelligence, existence, and continuity of all individuality remain in God, who is the divinely creative Principle thereof." (pp. 191, 513).

RELIEF MEASURE MUST BE SELF SUPPORTING SAYS ATTY. GENERAL

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 7—
(UP)—Administration of the Community Land chest act, a relief measure passed by the legislature, must be self-supporting, according to an opinion by Attorney General U. S. Webb.

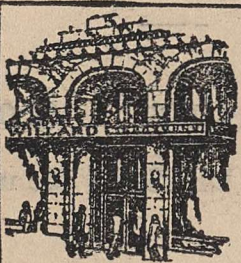

It is the apparent intent of the act, Webb said, to empower the state commissioner of corporations to make assessments on the estimated cost of the relief housing projects, to finance investigations and other necessary work in connection with consideration of applications.

The fee may not exceed one-half of 1 per cent of the project cost.

chopped, one leek, chopped, a small green pepper and a small stalk of celery, chopped. Strain the broth in which the clams were cooked over this mixture and let simmer for forty-five minutes. Add three diced raw potatoes, two tomatoes or one cup of canned tomato, the chopped clams and a few leaves of celery and parsley. Add three cups of milk and salt and pepper to season.

Stuffed Mushrooms
Mushrooms stuffed with crab-meat make a luncheon delicacy for dainty appetites. Allow six mushroom caps for each person. Peel them and brown whole in butter. Sprinkle with one-half tablespoon lemon juice, diluted with two teaspoons water. This will prevent discoloration. Arrange the mushroom caps hollow-side up in individual baking dishes and fill with a mixture of crab flakes fried in butter, moistened with cream and seasoned with salt and a grain of cayenne pepper. Brown in a hot oven and serve with an ordinary cream sauce to which the yolks of two eggs have been added and sprinkle with a little Barmesan cheese.

Delicious Haddock
One of the cheapest varieties of fish—haddock—is also one of the most tasty when it is properly prepared. About the simplest, and I think the best, way to prepare it is baking in cream. Cut the fish into long narrow fillets, roll and skewer with toothpicks. Season well with salt and pepper, roll in flour, then dip in beaten egg and roll in fine dry bread crumbs.

Butter a baking dish and arrange the fillets close together in it, dot with butter and pour in enough thin cream to about half cover the rolls. Bake in a moderate oven for about twenty minutes. Serve very hot with Savory potatoes.
